

HIPAA Notice

The following are examples of uses and disclosures of your health information which are permitted by law:

We will use your health information for treatment. We will use your health information to provide medical services to you. Any of our staff involved in your care will have access to your health information. We may also provide your health information to other health care providers involved in your care to assist them in providing you services.

We will use your health information for payment. Your health plan or health insurer will require certain information about your condition and the services you receive from us before payment will be made, or for pre-authorization purposes. Accordingly, for billing purposes, we may disclose your health information to your health plan or health insurer. We also may disclose health information to your health plan or health insurer when they require pre-authorization of a recommended procedure.

We will use your health information for regular health care operations. Members of our staff may review and use health information from your record to assess the care and outcomes in your case and others like it. This information will then be used by us in an effort to continually improve the quality and effectiveness of our services.

- Additional Uses and Disclosures

Business Associates: Certain of our business operations may be performed by other businesses. We refer to these companies as “business associates.” In order for these business associates to perform the required service (billing, accounting services, etc.), we may need to disclose your health information to them so that they can perform the job we’ve asked them to do. To protect you, we require our business associates to appropriately safeguard your health information.

Communication with Persons Involved in Your Care: We may disclose your health information that is directly relevant to your care to individuals you wish to receive such information, including family members, relatives, close personal friends, or other persons you identify. Before we do so, we will ask you, and follow your instructions, as to whether or not to make such disclosures. If you are incapacitated, or involved in an emergency, we may use or make disclosures of your health information that we believe in our professional judgment are in your best interest, but only to the extent that such health information is directly relevant to the recipients’ involvement in your care.

Required by Law: We may use or disclose your health information to the extent such use or disclosure is required by law and is limited to the relevant requirements or such law.

Public Health, Health Oversight and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA): As required by law, we may disclose your health information to public health or legal authorities charged with preventing or controlling disease, injury, or disability. We may also be required by law to disclose your health information to health oversight agencies responsible for regulating the health care system, government benefit programs, and civil rights laws, so that they may conduct, among other things, audits, investigations, and inspections. For the purpose of activities relating to the quality, safety or effectiveness of a FDA-regulated product or activity, we may disclose to the FDA your health information relating to adverse events with drugs, supplements, and other products, as well as information needed to enable product recalls, repairs, or replacements.

Victims of Abuse, Neglect, or Domestic Violence: If we reasonably believe that you are the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence, we may disclose your health information to a governmental authority responsible for receiving these types of reports, to the extent the disclosure is required by law, or you agree to the disclosure. If the disclosure is authorized by law, but not required, we may disclose your information if we determine that disclosure is necessary to prevent serious harm to you or others.

Judicial and Administrative Proceedings: If you are involved in a judicial or administrative proceeding, we may, in response to an order of a court or administrative tribunal, or in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process, disclose the specific portions of your health information that are requested. If the subpoena, discovery request or other lawful process is not accompanied by a court or administrative tribunal order, we may disclose your health information only after we are assured that reasonable efforts have been made to notify you of the request, and the time for you to raise objections to the request has expired, or reasonable efforts have been made by the requestor to seek a protective order concerning the requested health information.

Law Enforcement: We may disclose your health information to a law enforcement official for enforcement purposes as required by law, a court ordered subpoena or summons, a grand jury subpoena or summons, or an administrative subpoena or summons, under certain circumstances.

In specific situations, the law also permits us to disclose limited pieces of your health information, when the information is needed by law enforcement officials to: 1) identify a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person; 2) identify a victim of crime; 3) alert law enforcement officials concerning your death; 4) notify law enforcement officials when a crime has been committed on our premises; or 5) in an emergency, when necessary to alert law enforcement officials about a crime, its location, or the identity of a perpetrator.

Coroners, Medical Examiners and Funeral Directors: We may disclose your health information to a coroner or medical examiner for the purpose of identifying you upon your passing, or to determine a cause of death. We may also disclose your health information to your funeral director if needed to complete his or her authorized duties.

Organ, Eye or Tissue Donation: If you are an organ, eye or tissue donor, we may release your health information to organizations that procure, bank or transplant organs for the purpose of facilitating organ, eye or tissue donation and transplantation.

Research: We may disclose your health information to researchers when their research has been approved by an institutional review board or privacy board that has reviewed the research proposal and establish protocols to ensure the privacy of your health information, thereby meeting requirements under HIPAA. We may also disclose your health information for the purposes of research, public health or health care operations pursuant to a Data Use Agreement protecting that information as specified by HIPAA.

Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety: Consistent with applicable law and standards of ethical conduct, we may, in limited circumstances, use or disclose your health information if we, in good faith, believe such use or disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety of person or the public.

Military Personnel: If you are a member of the United States Armed services, we may disclose your health information to the correctional facility or law enforcement official having lawful custody of you.

National Security and Presidential Protective Services: We may disclose your health information to authorized federal officials for the conduct of lawful intelligence and national security activities, as well as the provision of protective services to the President and other protected individuals.

Inmates and Individuals in Custody: If you are an inmate or otherwise in custody, we may disclose your health information to the correctional facility or law enforcement official having lawful custody of you.

Workers’ Compensation: We may disclose your health information to the extent authorized and necessary to comply with laws relating to workers’ compensation or other similar programs established by law.
